

TT AirDoc

The TT AirDoc is a device designed for tail threading at press section. The system doctors the tail from one cylinder, and then by means of one or multiple air jets direct the tail to the following position.
Very easy to install and safe to manage, the TT Shooter is a repeatable and fast device to thread the tail.

Single point air flow regulators make the equipment easily tuned to any peculiar Customer's condition.

